B.S. in Computer Science with a Concentration in Game Programming

Learning Outcomes

After successfully completing this program, students will be able to:

1. Understand at least two modern, commercial programming languages.
2. Demonstrate an understanding of the complete system development lifecycle from planning and problem analysis through implementation and documentation.
3. Demonstrate a knowledge of game programming and game development engines.