

Master of Business Administration Concentration in Health Care

Student Learning Outcomes – Graduates will be prepared to:

- a. Identify and discuss the complexity of health care management organizations and how the different stakeholders respond to traditional management techniques.
- b. Identify and discuss the major components of health care management information systems.
- c. Identify and discuss how health care business differ from traditional business enterprises and how government supported health insurance and Medicare and Medicaid reimbursements impact cash management and capital structure.
- d. Identify and discuss legal issues in health care delivery.